St. Patrick's Saving Sale

Here's to the emerald's glorious sheen,
The shamrock wet with dew;
Transplanted here to deck with green
Our flag's red, white and blue.

Green is Nature's own hue. The dove first brought back the green to Noah. Some of the most famous greens were the "Green Dragon Tavern" where the revolutionary patriots met, and the Green at Lexington. Mohamet's green turban leads the faithful to victory. Robin Hood made lincoln green famous, and the small boy has made green apples infamous. They contain more pains than a green-house. Some green looking people are well read—a combination of red and green. Curious that Greenland should be such a chilly place and Chile always green. Another funny thing is that St. Patrick drove the snakes and frogs from Ireland, when they are the only animals whose tint is Irish green.

St. Patrick's Day comes in March, but in the march of improvement the progress made in manufacturing handy and handsome home furnishings is nowhere better illustrated than in our furniture, carpets, draperies and china. Goods that not only cater to your artistic ideas, but suit your everyday practical demands.

OSGOOD'S Grand March Massacre and Spring Slaughter of Furniture, Carpets, Draperies, China. 4 Days Only, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 13, 14, 15 and 16. The Pinnacle of Home Furnishing Perfection at Bottomless Pit Prices

Our Bedding Workrooms are the admiration of scores of visitors daily. There is nothing like them in the entire United States.

They are as light as day. The polished floor is as clean as wax. The walls and ceiling are as white as snow. You could eat off the spotless counters. The workmen are clothed entirely in clean white duck from head to foot. Nearly the entire roof is of glass. It is a sunny, well-lighted, airy, thoroughly ventilated workroom.
